Detention Center Turned Over To Youth Court

Hancock County supervisors, at the request of the county juvenile court, have placed the Hancock County Detention Center under the jurisdiction of the court.

Youth Court referee Michael Haas, in making the request of supervisors, explained that this action will enable the court to apply for needed operation and expansion funds, under the Omnibus Crime Prevention Act. The major funding for the construction of the center came from American Legion Post 130, supported by donations from other sources.

Only half of the facility is available for the retention of prisoners however, as two office spaces are occupied by the sheriff's office and the sheriff's communications center.

Another two cells have been converted into offices for the recently appointed county juvenile social worker and a secretary, leaving only two cells free.

Haas said the court would apply for financing to enlarge the facility by the addition of another wing, as well as for supplemental operation costs. He said that relocation of the sheriff's office would probably be necessary under terms of the grant although the communications center may possibly remain, due to the added protection of radio operators on a 24-hour basis.

An amendment was added to the resolution providing for the removal of the communications center if necessary, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors.

Senior Citizens Will Open Thieves Market

A group of senior citizens of Waveland, who have been long on time available, and short on liquid cash, have joined forces to spearhead a community drive to form a corporation which will operate a glorified flea market and garage sale under the name of Thieves Market.

The Waveland project, which will open its doors to the public in the beginning of February, will follow the usual pattern of the flea market and offer just about anything and everything for sale—used furniture, used clothes, pots and pans, odds and ends of electric appliances, fishing equipment, or what have you.

According to William Gaudet, Waveland resident, the market will offer for sale on a consignment basis just about anything anyone has for sale except one commodity—stolen goods. In this respect it is not a thieves market.

In addition to the above, the Thieves Market will offer imported items from Africa, the Caribbean, Central and South America, and the Far East. Imported items will not be in quantity, but they will offer a substantial cross section of items produced in those areas of the world.

Another innovation is that instead of restricting the operation to weekends only, as is the pattern for most flea markets and garage sales, the Waveland market will be open on a six-day-a-week schedule—Tuesday through Sunday.

Gaudet, a retired magazine publisher, originated the project in order to utilize the services of the many retired senior citizens who reside in Waveland. Since Waveland is predominantly a residential area job opportunities are few, particularly for men past 60 years of age.

First step in turning the idea into a reality was to contact a sufficient number of senior citizens who had the time and were willing to work in the market. Once this was assured the next step was to find a suitable location which the new company conceivably could afford.

Although Highway 90, the main artery from east to west, would have been more suitable no available building could be found. The next best location was Coleman Avenue, the main street of Waveland. The only unoccupied building there suitable for the market was the former H. G. Hill store and theatre, owned by Ed Otte, civic and business leader in Hancock county.

Under normal business circumstances the building would be beyond the financial ability of the group. Otte, however, interested in the community aspects of the project agreed to an arrangement which will make it possible for the senior citizens to use his building, starting in February.

It was one thing for the senior citizens to agree to make their time available over a six-month period for a stock interest in their corporation, which is called the Waveland Senior Citizens Association, Inc. Big question now was whether others, who would not actually participate in the operation of the market, would be willing to cooperate by buying stock in a project which had to be labeled a gamble. The response, however, was amazing and people in Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and New Orleans bought stock in amounts varying from $100.00 to $500.00.

At Champagne, a former New Orleans bank employee, will serve as the company's first president. Mrs. William Gaudet, vice president, Archie Diebold, a retired Western Union official from New Orleans will be secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the company will be the three officers along with Team leaders Dyer and Little will review the NASA report December 18 in a New Orleans meeting with USGS acting director W.A. Radlinski, other USGS officials, and officials of about 50 oil and gas companies that operate on the Gulf outer continental shelf.

Copies of the NASA report are available from the Office of the Director, U.S. Geological Survey, 18th and E Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20222.

Port Requests Office Relocation

The advisability of moving the newly-purchased Port and Harbor office building to a location on Highway 603 came under discussion at a supervisors' meeting Monday.

A Port and Harbor request for approval of the $400 cost to move the metal building, now located next to the Coast

Electric Power Co. on Highway 90, brought an objection from supervisor Alton Keller. The board two supervisors urged the board to wait until after January before deciding on a permanent site for the commission offices. The request was tabled for later action.

A Port and Harbor claims docket was approved

Electric Power Co. on Highway

90, brought an objection from supervisor Alton Keller. The board two supervisors urged the board to wait until after January before deciding on a permanent site for the commission offices. The request was tabled for later action.

A Port and Harbor claims docket was approved unanimously despite an objection by supervisor-elect Jerry Linder, who labeled a total of $10,563 for attorney's fees "an outrageous price." Michael Haas, one of the commission's attorneys, explained that although the collective fees were shown in October and November, they represented legal work accomplished over the past year.

Board president Russell Elliott added that up to $39,000 had been approved by EDA for legal services, therefore a large percentage of attorney's fees for EDA projects can be absorbed under that allocation.

Action was postponed on the proposed food stamp program for Hancock County, after Mrs. Victor Frankiewicz advised the board that it would not be necessary to apply for the program within this month. At an earlier board meeting, Jerry Linder had voiced an objection to the adoption of the food stamp program, stating that he felt estimated cost of the program was prohibitive. The board agreed to leave decision on the program to the incoming board.

A motion was passed to re-advertise for two job opportunities available under Emergency Employment Act funding, when it became apparent that incoming board members present were unaware of the original advertisement. Elliott submitted a motion to the board.

Representatives of South Central Bell petitioned the board for permission to install an additional 7,700 feet of underground cable in Clermont Harbor. The trunk cable would be laid 30 inches underground running parallel to the Lower Bay Road. The addition of the cable, they said, would increase service to the residents of the Clermont Harbor area and afford greater protection from storm damage.

The board granted permission for the installation, subject to the approval of the State Aid division of Public Roads.

At 11:15 on Christmas Eve, a program of Christmas Music, featuring the Senior Choir and Brass Choir, will be presented.

At Midnight a con-celebrated High Mass will be offered. Masses Christmas morning will be celebrated at 6:30, 8:30, 10:30 and 11:30. There will be no evening Mass on Christmas Eve at 7 p. m. nor on Christmas Day.

Because of the fact that Christmas falls on Saturday this year, a Vigil Mass for Sunday will be celebrated at 7 p. m. in Christmas evening.

Mass at St. Joseph's Chapel, Dunbar Avenue, will be celebrated at 8 a. m. on Christmas Day.

County Must Fill Two Job Openings

Hancock county supervisors are advertising again this week for two job openings, made possible through Emergency Employment Act funding.

Federal funding will only be available for an eight-month period and job applicants are urged to consider this aspect when applying.

Another regulation by the Dept. of Labor is that first priority for consideration will be given to "special veterans", referring to those men who have served in Vietnam (or adjacent waters), Korea or are veterans of World War II, and who have received other than a dishonorable discharge.

The first opening is for a sanitation supervisor in the Public Works category. The job pays $400 a month, or $3,200 for eight months. The job description calls for supervision and patrol of all dumping areas throughout the county to control infractions of dump regulations.

The second job falls under the Law Enforcement division and is for a narcotics and vice investigator. The agent should have some prior training or experience in narcotics control as he will be expected to conduct a full investigation of all narcotics abuse and other vice activities in the county, working in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies. His investigative records must be substantial enough to lead to the indictment of arrested offenders.

Salary for the above agent is $550 per month, or $4,400 for the eight months.

All applicants must first register with the State Employment office in Gulfport for referral to the board of supervisors. Resumes will be accepted at the Court House by Lucien Kidd. Deadline for applications is noon, December 22.

Attend School

Bay St. Louis assistant police chief Douglas Williams and fireman trainer Wayne Boud have returned from a week-long specialized training school in Gulfport. The two men, along with a large number of other law enforcement and fire fighting personnel from Louisiana and all parts of Mississippi, attended classes geared to Rescue Instructor Training. The course was conducted under the Civil Defense Training Program from December 5 through December 10. Course instruction included rescue techniques, personnel from Massachusetts and Harris county Civil Defense director Wade Guice.

Some of the rescue methods covered in the course were recovering unconscious persons from burning buildings, various ways to use a ladder in rescue, improvised litters and stretchers for carrying injured victims, and securing the injured to a stretcher for safety in transportation. Certificates awarded to the men attending the course will enable them to conduct rescue training classes in their own communities.

THE CHRISTMAS Spirit
"reins" at Bay Elementary School

Dear Sir:
Monday morning, December 13, 1971, I took my son-for-registration in Bay Elementary School. We were excited as this move was a big adventure in our lives. Son was impressed with the appearance of his new school and mother was anxiously looking forward to enrolling him in his new school and meeting his principal and future advisors. The school secretary greeted us with a smile and asked our business.
No sooner was it stated then a loud voice echoed from the back of her desk, where the principal was typing, "No more kids from New Orleans!" I responded,
"We are not from New Orleans but Austin, Texas!" His brisk answer was, "We cannot register your child until after the first of the year!" No attempt was made to shake my hand, introduce himself as the principal or make us feel welcome to the new school environment. We did not feel welcome nor do we really want to go back!

My husband is a research scientist with the new Hydroscience Center. We had hoped to buy a home in Bay St.
Louis. I am finishing graduate work in special education. We thought that we would be a positive valence to Bay St.
Louis. The school system is one of the first contacts newcomers have with your community. A little southern hospitality smooths over a lot of rough edges.

Sincerely,
Rudolph
(Mrs. P. R. Stevens)

Dear Sir:
In answer to the Canady article in Waveland, does this article give people permission to go on private property just because their door was unlocked?

Their garage is part of their home, these boys were trespassing on private property.

An interested citizen and tax payer.

BEA GEORGI

Dear Sir:
I noted in your lead article that the Supervisors of Hancock County withheld decision on County Food Stamp Program, and that the reason seems to be that the County can't afford it.
I don't see how the County can take such a stand since about 90 percent of the other counties in the U. S. can afford it.

This is an excellent program for Hancock and should have full support of the Supervisors and all the people. It is not especially for the indigent, it is for people with low and medium incomes who can not afford a good nutritional diet without a little extra help.

At this time of year especially, let us always remember the biblical injunction: THE LEAST YOU GIVE UNTO MY BROTHER IN MY NAME, YOU GIVE UNTO ME.

Cordially,
J. Ashton-Greene
President
J. Ashton-Greene,
and Assoc.

Money could do more for folk if they expected it to do less.

Port And Harbor Commission

Misinformation concerning the Port and Harbor operation has been rampant almost since the commission was established in June 1962, and held its first meeting in March 1963.

Sometimes too much information can be as misleading as not enough. It is a thought that the propensity of press coverage of Port and Harbor activity over the past six years may have added to the confusion of facts in the minds of many local citizens.

For those who are sincerely interested in an accurate picture of the Port and Harbor Commission and its aims, the following facts are submitted.

STAFF AND INCOME

Contrary to popular belief, only four members of the Port and Harbor organization are salaried. They include Charles Hill, director; Jack Seuzemann, aviation director; Mrs. Lee Carver, executive secretary; and Constance Van Calsen, a part-time secretary.

The administrative board of commissioners is composed of Donald Landry, president; Harry Wilson, vice-president; Augustus Elmer, Jr., treasurer; John Scatfield, secretary; Louis Breaux, Oliver Frierson and Haskell Doyle.

COMMISSION

Five members of the commission are appointed by county supervisors, one from each beat. Recommendations for the remaining two appointments are made by the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and submitted to the governor for final approval.

Commissioners receive a stipend of $10 per meeting plus ten cents a mile. No other remuneration is authorized for board members, under state law.

Appointments to the board of commissioners generally last as long as the current board of supervisors. A totally new group of commissioners is not unusual with the advent of a new board of supervisors. A drawback to this system is that it can take more than a few months for a new member to familiarize himself with the intricacies of the organization.

Often a board is just acquiring a certain amount of cohesiveness and collective productivity by the end of the term.

EARLY AIMS

Original objectives leading to the creation of the Port and Harbor Commission were to provide solidification of the county tax base by the creation of job opportunities within the confines of the county, through the development of a 2,000 acre industrial park.

Early attempts to woo industry into the undeveloped industrial area were abortive as it soon became apparent that a multi-million dollar corporation is not interested in long-range plans, with no tangible evidences of air-rail-water shipping facilities.

The problem turned into a vicious circle. The county needed outside industry's money to build the required facilities, but no outside industrialists would locate in Hancock due to the lack of facilities.

Original objectives were redirected to the development of natural transportation resources, leading to an intermodal complex attractive to the industrial field.

Forestry Report

Conservation by definition means "To preserve or maintain in present condition."
The State Forester supported his opinion by pointing out that during the 1970-71 fiscal year the number of forest fires suppressed by Commission crews dropped below 5,000 for the first time in history. "This reduction, said Lack, occurred despite a considerable number of high fire danger days which might normally be accompanied by outbreaks of forest and brushfires."
"We appealed directly to the people to prevent carelessly caused fires last year and the record shows their fine response," declared the State Forester.

Lack promised that well-equipped and highly motivated firefighting personnel would again do their part to stop wildfires quickly once they are started, but called on citizens to be more alert to the increasing hazards of out-door burning during the months ahead.

"Proper management is the key to greater profits from our farm woods," Hendry said.
Through proper management, a landowner can double and even triple the income from farm woodlands.

Timber is as much a crop as corn or cotton and should be a part of the farm plan. Good management practice that will improve the growing conditions in the farm woods should be included in the farm plan the same as plans to fertilize a pasture.

For information on how to realize greater profits from your timber through better management, contact County Forester, Michael Hendry, phone number 255-7152.

Trumpets In The Morning

By Perry D. Noel, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

This is a very happy time of year. It is a time of rejoicing; a time for rediscovering the wonders of God's creation; a time for looking back and touching the rough and sturdy "foundation rock" on which our spiritual heritage is built; a time for looking ahead in faith, knowing that God's bounty is inexhaustible and another harvest will present itself for celebration; a time for everyone to participate in the action of thanksgiving!

Life at Christmas is very wonderfully special at this glad time for all who have been born again (spiritual birth) through Jesus Christ The Lord!
God loves you and wants you to experience the abundant Christ controlled life. The season can be one of joy to you when you put Christ ahead of SELF.

The following is a tribute to the Lord Jesus Christ.
Christmas is the Birth Day of THE KING OF KINGS - Jesus.

ONE SOLITARY LIFE
He was born in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty. He then became an itinerate preacher. He never had a family or owned a house. He didn't go to college. He had no
credentials but himself.

Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race. All the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever sailed, and all the kings that ever reigned have not affected the life of man on this earth as much as that...

SOIL MANAGEMENT

If your crops like cotton have consistently produced stunted plants and poor root systems due to compacted soils, double subsoiling will pay off. When double subsoiling the second subsoiling should be at right angles to the first.

Soils that are subject to erosion should not be distributed in the winter. Cut the stalks and work the land when you can in the spring.

DAIRY NOTES

With winter here, you are going to have to spend a little more time milking. Despite all the concrete you may or may not have, your cows will manage to have more mud and manure on their feet, legs, udders and flanks. This means more time washing the cows and drying udders before attaching the milking machine.
Prepare each cow for milking as if you were to save that cow's milk for your table. And don't allow your help to do any less!
Your milk plant cannot put out a better product than it receives from your bulk tank. Make sure that a quality product leaves your tank by seeing that all milking equipment, including your bulk tank is clean before milking.

TAX WORKSHOPS

Small business and farm tax practitioners workshops are scheduled for southern Mississippi at the Dixie Electric Power Association building, four miles east of Laurel on U.
S. Highway 84 on December 13th.

Another will be held in Tupelo
at the Vocational-Technical Center on December 16th.

Another will be held in Tupelo
at the Vocational-Technical Center on December 16th.

Members of the Cooperative Extension Service economics department, the Internal Revenue Service and State Tax Commission will take part in the training.

These workshops are designed for persons preparing tax returns for farmers and small farm-oriented businesses, including those who prepare their own.

According to the Department's Wage-Hour Division, over $33.6 million had been found owing to nearly 84,000 employees, almost all of them women, as of the end of June 1971.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling
City-County Library Writer

Back in the old days, Women's Lib wasn't even heard of, much less practiced. We were reminded of this when we saw recently an old record of marriages in Mississippi one hundred and fifty years ago.

At that time, marriage was a more complicated proceeding than it is today. Unfortunately we have no records of the outcome of these joinings, but we do know that a wedding was much more than a quick trip to the J.P. Usually the prospective groom had to put up a bond in the girl's favor, guaranteeing the faithful fulfillment of the engagement. Recently in Houma, La., we found among some old papers the bond in the amount of several thousand dollars made by the famous Confederate general, Braxton Bragg, to a local girl whom he later married.

But the obligations were not only on the man's part, but were pretty binding on the bride too.
Before a marriage license could be issued, she had to present the written consent of her father or mother, if the father was not available to the marriage, usually an affidavit by him.
Then the couple had to put up a bond, usually of two hundred dollars, that there was no bar of race or blood-relationship to the marriage. After all this, the young couple was joined in wedlock and, hopefully, lived happy ever after.

All of these hurdles of parent's consent and bonds show that in those days a girl was pretty closely guarded before she became a Mrs. We have other records showing how restricted by rules and custom she was during the courtship.

She was seldom left alone with the young man, and then only briefly, and was not allowed to go out of the house with him unless chaperoned. She didn't smoke, of course, and her lips never touched spirituous beverages except on the most festive occasions. The utmost modesty in word, dress and demeanor was imperative, and formality in relationship was practiced, often to the extent of married couples addressing each other as Mister and Missus all their lives.

As a wife, the girl continued to lead an even more restricted and humdrum life. Her actions conformed strictly to the wishes and orders of her husband. She had no friends except those approved by him and his comfort and convenience always took priority. There were few recreations and pleasures in her life, and unless the family had slaves her care of the house included doing the hardest and most menial tasks.

And yet presumably she was satisfied; broken homes were the decided exceptions in those days. Census figures show that large families were the rule, with six, eight and even ten children being commonplace.
Homes were comfortable, if not elaborate, and fare was wholesome and appetizing, if plain. Altogether, it was a good life—even without the Lib!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bumpy Flight

One moment Myrtle was gazing peacefully out the airplane window, admiring the view. The next moment the plane struck an air pocket, lurched downward, and tossed Myrtle right out of her seat.

The jolt dislocated her shoulder, and in due course she filed a damage suit against the airline.
"As a common carrier," she argued, "the airline was obliged to deliver me safely to my destination. This it failed to do." However, the court ruled that the plane's sudden plunge was an "act of God," hence, nobody's fault. The court said that a bump-less ride is not yet possible under today's technology—and even a common carrier should not be expected to do the impossible.
Nevertheless, it is expected to do all it can. In another case, a pilot neglected to turn on the FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT

sign even though his plane had already entered a zone of turbulence. This time, when a passenger was injured in an accident like Myrtle's, he was held entitled to collect damages from the airline.

In a third case, a man was assured by a stewardess that there was "still time" to go to the washroom just as the plane was approaching a known patch of choppy air. Again, injury. And again, airline liability.

But it is also true that the passenger must do his share to minimize the risk.
One passenger obediently hooked up his seat belt when the warning sign went on. But he left so much slack in the belt that there was still plenty of room for him to bounce. And when the plane hit turbulence, he did bounce—hard.

Afterward, the man tried to collect damages for the injuries he had sustained. He blamed the stewardess for not double-checking his belt.
But the court threw out his claim. For having suffered an accident he could easily have avoided, said the court, he had no one to blame but himself.

Trailers Still Evident In Waveland

ANOTHER TRAILER remaining on the beach near Hartale Dr. in Waveland.

THE HOLY CROSS trailer on Beach Blvd. in Waveland has been landscaped.

HIGH WEEDS almost obliterate this trailer on the beach drive in Waveland.

THIS TRAILER on Coleman Ave. in Waveland has been in use as an office since Camille.

Although the deadline for the removal of all trailers in the city of Waveland was August 31, 1971, a number of mobile homes can still be found within the city limits.

Three of the above four mobile homes can be seen on the beach drive, interspersed among attractive newly built residences. Other trailers are spotted in various locations throughout the town.

The August '71 deadline was the second year's extension on trailer removal, as set by the city council. The first deadline of August 1970 was set by the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development and referred to temporary trailers brought into the coast communities following Camille. Trailers on any site other than an authorized trailer park are unlawful according to the Waveland code of ordinances.

Litter Still Problem In Bay

Felix Seeger, Bay St. Louis superintendent of public grounds is appealing to the sense of civic pride of community residents regarding litter.

According to Seeger, the litter problem is getting bad again.

Therefore he issues a reminder to each citizen to do his part toward keeping the community attractive by not adding to refuse on the streets.

Seeger especially commended the school students in Bay St. Louis for their much appreciated past efforts in cleanup campaigns, and is asking their help again. "When going to and from school to throw trash in the litter cans provided along the way," he said. "This would be a tremendous help. Seeger stated, to the workmen who spend five days a week just cleaning city streets."

SOUTH AMERICAN ADVENTURE

From Brasilia to Bogota,
from Sao Paulo to Santiago, Varig Brazilian Airlines offers its Classic Tour of South America that's in a class by itself. Almost all of the continent's countries are included: Brazil, Paraguay, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Panama are all on the interesting itinerary.

Highlighting the 36-day odyssey are Iguazu Falls, Brazil, more spectacular than either Niagara or Victoria Falls.
Twelve miles from the meeting of the Parana Stream and Iguazu River, 275 cascades form a mile-and-a-half crescent.
The torrents of water sweep down a basin-forming majestic cascades 230 feet high, offering visitors an unforgettable sight.

The history of a whole civilization comes to light during visits to Guuzo and Machu Picchu, Peru. Tucked away in a most remote and inaccessible valley in the high Andes, Inca is the scene of the rise and fall of the ancient Inca Empire.
Sightseeing includes the Pucara Fortress, Kenko Amphitheatre, stone-pool bath used for rituals, fortress of Sacsayhuaman and Temple of the Sun. Machu Picchu, Inca's home by night, is a masterpiece of Inca architecture.

SWISS SACK RACE WINNERS DISAPPEAR

In paper and plastic refuse sack burial trials held two years ago in Basel and Canton, Switzerland, the winning paper bags could not be found, although the plastic losers were visible. Right where they had been buried several months earlier. Pouch play was ruled out when the authorities realized that paper was destroyed by soil bacteria, whereas plastic was not.

Basel and Canton, like most areas around the world, destroy its garbage by plowing it underground (we call it sanitary landfill) — a method that does not contribute as burning would to air pollution. Also like many areas, it was suffering from a garbage explosion.
A better garbage pickup system was needed, to lower costs and stretch available resources, but the system had to be compatible with Basel's garbage disposal method.

Plastic and paper bags were selected as possible choices.
Eight hundred households and two suburban communities agreed to take part in the trials.
Exactly nine months after the burial of the garbage in filled bags, the dumping area was dug up and examined.

The results: Most of the plastic bags were still intact, and so were their contents. The paper bags had practically disappeared and so had their garbage. By winning the sack race, the paper bags had also won the contest!

The "no-can" system developed by the Swedes, now being used by hundreds of American communities, was chosen for the Swiss trial. This system replaces the heavy, smelly garbage can with a disposable paper sack supported by a metal frame with an attached lid. Since there is no can to haul out to the street and back, noise pollution is considerably reduced and pickups speeded up, resulting in better service for the same collection dollar (labor costs are the biggest garbage budget item). Fewer sprained backs and cleaner front lawns.

New York City has just joined the list of American towns that have adopted the "no-can" system. Further information about it can be obtained by writing the National Refuse Sack Council, 60 East 22nd Street, New York, New York 10011.

England. It was completed in 1648.

Not every plank in this venerable house is the original wood. But the entire framework is the exterior posts.
The flooring, most of the floor, Even some of the wood shingles are over three centuries old.

Which brings us to a remarkable fact: The fibers in wood are centered with a natural glue called lignin. A substance that's impervious to water and extremes of heat and cold.
Properly used, wood will last almost forever.

Fire Engine Repaired; Now Used As Backup

ALL SYSTEMS ARE GO -- as Bay St. Louis firemen prove that a little ingenuity goes a long way. Three hoses work at full pressure from the city's Diamond-T fire engine, saved from extinction by fire chief Floyd Page. Firemen manning the hoses are (from left) Wayne Bourn, Richard Fayard and Clyde Page, assisted by J. C. Page. (Echo staff photo by Adoree Shortle)

The old Diamond-T fire engine belonging to the city of Bay St. Louis is now in operating condition and available as a backup engine for the city's fire department, through the efforts of fire chief Floyd Page and his brother, fireman Clyde Page.

Some months ago, the city council vetoed a request for repairs to the 20-year-old engine because of the prohibitive cost of $3,500 to put the engine in operable condition. Opinion of the Mayor was that the engine was too old to vindicate putting that much money into it.

Convinced that the engine could be repaired for considerably less than the estimated amount, the fire chief and his brother worked on the engine in their off time. In less than three days they had the engine running and all pump valves operating at full capacity, for a total outlay of $2.79.

"The only thing it needs now," Page stated, "is two new batteries and some hoses and it'll be as good as the other one."

forcement agencies of Hancock County have combined their efforts to deter burglaries. The resident will mark his valuables (items most likely to be stolen such as: TV's, stereos, tape decks, guns, cameras, appliances, and sports equipment) with the social security number of the head of the household. Any resident in Hancock County can borrow an electric marking tool and receive forms for recording the valuables marked. The marked items will be recorded by name, model, and serial number on two prepared forms-one will be filed with the police and the other will serve as an inventory for the owner. These marked items will then be difficult to resell. When recovered by the police, the stolen item can be readily returned to the owner. At present, there are two electric marking tools and forms available at: Hancock County Sheriff's Office, the Bay and Waveland police departments and Farm Bureau Insurance Office, Highway 603, Kila, Miss. The Rotary Club believes this to be a first in Mississippi, and strongly urges all Hancock County residents to take advantage of this program.

POISON NEEDED

Waveland Operation Upturn has committed $500 from its Interim Assistance Program budget for the purchase of rat poison to be disbursed by county health officers.

Louis Fernandez, county health officer informed supervisors Monday that increased requests from local residents for the rat poison had depleted health department supplies. Fernandez asked for permission to purchase the poison in 100-pound increments, as he said prolonged storage in a damp atmosphere was damaging to the poison.

SEUZENEAU ELECTED

Jack Seuzeneau, Stennis Field director, was elected to the board of directors of the International Trade Club of Mississippi at a meeting Tuesday night in Jackson. Seuzeneau will serve as representative of the southern counties on board activities.

Eddy was paralyzed from the waist down as a result of the accident and was sent to Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans. When he arrived, Eddy was completely immobilized and in great pain. He spent several weeks in the intensive care ward, but through his own faith and determination, and special attention from the hospital staff, he has made excellent progress, Mrs. Lizana said.

Primary aims of the club are to develop the international trade market for Mississippi products and services.

VFW MEETING

VFW Post 3253 will meet Thursday, December 23 at the post home on Third Street in Bay St. Louis. All members are urged to attend.

Last month Eddy was sent to the Kuhn Memorial Rehabilitation Center in Vicksburg for further treatment and to learn to walk again, with the aid of braces.

He is expected home from Vicksburg tomorrow for a two-week visit with his family. After the holidays he will return to the rehabilitation center for several more months of therapy.

Things weren't too hot for fishing and hunting over the past weekend with the weather too hot for hunting ducks and geese out in the marshes. With the tides too low for catching bass and perch and most inside waters too full of fresh water for speckles to stay in them. All in all it was a bad weekend for most sportsmen. A few speckles were caught but they were on the small size.

On the hunting side it was too hot to hunt rabbits and squirrels and besides the ground in most of the woods was covered with rain water.

The season on Woodcock opens on December 18, as well as Snipe on the same day, and to remain open until Feb. 20th. The dove season opens for the third segment on Dec. 18th. So there will still be time to hunt for the next couple of months. With a little cold weather ahead things ought to change considerably.

Regarding waterfowl seasons on Rails, Coots (Poulesdeux), Snipe and Woodcock will be open after this coming weekend. Don't forget to purchase that Federal Duck Stamp if you are planning to do this type of hunting.

Opossums and Raccoons can also be killed.

Ple Ladner has returned home after a two week vacation with relatives. He enjoyed plenty fishing while down South.

Eddie Blaize was telling us of the nice speckles he has been getting. Eddie is one of our best soft crabs and flounders, when the time is ripe. Knows how to get 'em you can bet.

M. F. Cass spent a couple of days at his camp in Shoreline Park. He got in some fishing while here. M. F. is from Hattiesburg.

Pat Rutherford has just completed his vacation. Spent most of his time catching speckles and bass from Pat's another of our best fishermen. Has been at it a long time.

Rub Genin was trolling for speckles. Don't know exactly how he made out.

John Scaife and yours truly caught some speckles by the hardest.

It's a fact over 1/4 of a group will laugh at your jokes even if they aren't funny (3 to 1) they have heard them before.

They claim that your chances of making that hole-in-one in golf are only 2500 to 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Seely have finally returned from Europe to once again reside in New Orleans and Bay St. Louis. Hancock North Central boys beat Long Beach 82-60. High scorers for Hancock were O'Neil-Cuevas with 30 points and Danny Martin and Jamie Ladner each with 12 points. For Long Beach, Al Walker had 15 points.

Hancock North Central with a 10-0 record, will travel to Harrison Central, Friday night to take on the Red Rebels.

ECO-TIPS FOR FISHERMEN

If you have any ecology tips to pass along to other fishermen Dick Kotis would like to hear about them. When not fishing, Kotis, President of the Fred Arbogast Company in Akron, Ohio, frequently travels about the country speaking to sportsmen. One question he has heard often since ecology became a common concern, is "What can we do to improve the outdoors."

This question promptly sends Kotis into reciting his list of favorite "eco-tips" for fishermen. "Pick up the old monofilament you find outdoors," he suggests, "because birds and small mammals become entangled in it and die." Then he continues with the following.

Never allow your boat gas tank to overflow and pollute the water.

Keep your outboard tuned to cut down petroleum wastes going into air and water.

Pick up film packs. Some cause wildlife poisoning.

Metal tabs from drink cans, cans, and plastic carriers for holding packs together are hazards for wildlife that swallow them or become entangled in them.

Keep a litterbag in your boat, and use it. Don't throw anything in the water. Kotis adds, "except Hula Poppers and Jitterbugs."

You may have a few additional ideas of your own. If so, let Kotis know about them. He would like to add them to his growing list of "eco-tips" for a cleaner outdoors.

Other hunters getting their limits of duck were Nickey and Ronnie Rauxet, Dave Carter and Willie Willimits. All these young hunters are experts at Donald Cuevas doesn't care too much about fishing. It's easier to watch football on T. V. No work attached, he claims.

A fruitful trip was made over the weekend by John Ristolph, Cliff Comeaux, Jr., Luke Elliott and August Rauxet on a charter boat out of Gulfport to the marsh. They returned Monday with some speckles, ducks and oysters. They did more hunting than fishing. Again the weather was too hot for ducks, but all agreed they should have done more fishing.

GOOD FUTURE
Strive to make today better than yesterday and tomorrow will take care of itself.

Industrial Drafting Course Offered

The Mississippi State Department of Vocational Education has, through cooperation with some of the local systems, agreed to make available a night course in Industrial Drafting. The Hancock County School Board has agreed to present Industrial Drafting to the students of the high school on a daily basis, but now the course will also be offered to those already out of school and holding regular daily jobs. The course is designed to train unskilled individuals to be trained draftsmen in two years. This course and the others like it are designed after a nationwide program in Vocational training. It promises to prepare a person to go to work in his field of study after successful completion of the course.

The county school system has been authorized by the State of Mississippi to offer at least one four-hour course in Industrial drafting; that is, one night per week, four hours per night until the course is completed. The course will be offered on Wednesday nights beginning at 6 p. m. and lasting until 10 p. m. All drafting equipment will be furnished except needed paper which will be available in class or at local retail stores. Under this program, anyone not presently in school is eligible. High school diploma is not mandatory.

The course is scheduled to begin the second semester of this school year on the 19th of January at 6 p. m. in the Drafting Room at Hancock North Central High School. The presentation of the course depends entirely on the response of the interested people. If you are interested or know of anyone interested, please contact the Office of the Principal at Hancock North Central School by writing to Route 1, Pass Christian, Miss. 39570, or by calling 255-7191 and give your name and address.

OFF-BEAT

Ignorance has to be bliss when a man has more money than he knows what to do with.

Too Old to Drive?

As auto accidents go, Mrs. Martin's collision with another car was nothing special. But soon afterward, bad news arrived in the mail.

"Your driver's license has been revoked," said a notice from the Traffic Bureau.

Mrs. Martin, an ardent motorist, decided to put up a fight. Challenging the Traffic Bureau in court, she pointed out that the collision was in no way her fault.

"Even so," countered a Bureau spokesman, "this woman has already passed her 77th birthday. That alone is enough basis for us to revoke her license."

But the court disagreed. Ordering the license restored, the court said advanced years alone are not enough reason to take away a person's right to drive.

Most traffic laws say that officials may revoke the license of anyone unfit to handle a car. But they may not classify a person as unfit without good grounds. Even a physical disability may not be enough to disqualify a driver if the disability can be kept under adequate control.

For example, a man had diabetes. But his condition was such that the possibility of insulin shock was slight. And if shock did occur, it would give him enough warning to allow him to pull over to the curb. A court held that his license could not be revoked.

Another man occasionally suffered from double vision. But he could clear it up instantly just by shutting one eye. His license, too, was held not subject to revocation.

However, a court refused similar help to a woman afflicted by heart trouble, high blood pressure, and partial paralysis on one side. Seeking to have her license restored, she recalled that she had driven for 30 years without an accident.

But the court, noting the very real possibility of sudden trouble, said her good driving in the past was no guarantee against bad driving in the future. As one judge put it:

"The purpose is not punishment of the driver but the protection of the public."

QUARTER TIME TIPS

How To Groom & Bloom
In 15 Minutes Or Less
To the quick-time grooming greats like electric hair-setters, dry shampoos and eye makeups and tans that go on in a flash - you can now add a hair color that works without mess or fuss in only 15 minutes. And because it's good for hair (contains special ingredients that actually improve shine and texture) and washes out in five or six shampoos, it eliminates most hair color's haircoloring "fears." Just foam one of Clairol's 10 new Loving Care Color-Foam natural colors on your freshly shampooed hair, work it in, and wait a quarter of an hour.

After that, simply rinse and do your "do."

Femininity Today

by Thompson

WOW! That's what admiring men everywhere are saying and thinking about their modern day beauty goddesses. Why? Because today's girls are more alluring and feminine than ever before.

One reason is that the "new" have it. Equipped with beauty sprays that range from state-of-the-art eye-lashes to contact lenses, the space-age femme is sending her men into orbit with more frequency than any of her predecessors.

Hair freedom is another hallmark of femininity today. While manne had to acquiesce frenetically to the beauty parlor for a "permanent," hoping it would be done in time for the party or evening out on the town - all daughter has to do is don her wig.

Also adding to femininity today are all those wonderful new products that make women feel more personally secure than ever before. "Stayfree" mini-pads, for one, lock onto undergarments with an adhesive strip, providing lightweight comfort and protection to meet the needs of today's active women.

And then, of course, there's the fabulous mini-skirt, still going strong despite a recent spurt in "Granny" dresses. Putting shapely gams back on the map, this phenomenon also gave rise to a whole new freedom of movement for women. For without the mini-skirt, there probably would never have been any panty hose.

PLAN NOW TO BE AN "ARTS AND CRAFTY" SANTA

Flattering white crocheted hat and scarf — unusual Madonna icon in needlepoint; sit-up felt Santa beanbag; gift stocking trimmed in glue applique, a teddy bear and colorful felt tree trunks and among many items you can make this Christmas.

Each year more and more people are joining their creative skills to do "their own thing" in their own Santa's workshop. To lighten the load for Donder and Blitzen, these clever "elves" are making Christmas gifts for the family right at home. Even beginners find it easy to become expert at holiday "do-it-yourselfing." All it takes is a little creative imagination and easy-to-follow directions. McCall's Christmas Make-It Ideas magazine, for example, offers over 300 great ways to "make" Santa's season brighter.

If the kitchen is your castle, publisher Nan Comstock suggests you give special attention to the magazine's "Cooking and Party Giving" section. It's chock-full of unique and decorative ideas in the best of taste — like a charming Christmas cracker to bake and eat.

Another complete section explains exciting new ways to trim your tree — with bangles and bangles in jewel-like colors... fun to make with ordinary beads, felt, and cookie cutters. Other fun materials include straw, pasta, and the versatile fingerbread — baked this time into an adorable and yummy cookie family.

To capture the true spiritual meaning of the Christmas season, there's an easy, new outline-and-fill-in needlepoint method to make a Madonna and Child in the traditional pose of early icons. Using this method, there are no stitches to count.

Like to crochet? McCall's Christmas Make-It Ideas features the perfect pattern for any girl — a fringe-edged scarf and matching hat. With a chain-loop mesh crocheted over the basic pattern stitch, either side of the hat can be right side out!

For the kids, make smiling beanbags (each in costume), or a huggable, fuzzy teddy bear with a wardrobe all his own. Not to mention: song kits, cuddly baby dolls, and a variety of other fascinating gifts that will delight children.

With sand candles to burn and fruitcake candles to eat, with trim for trees and trees for trim, with things to make for kids and things kids can make — there's a little Christmas something for everyone to do in McCall's Christmas Make-It Ideas magazine, now on sale at your local newsstand.

Hope is useless unless it's backed up by plenty of hustle.

Delicately carved from bass wood is this star-topped center arch of the Holy Family.

Who Believe Our Country is Worth Preserving*

TODAY'S PATRIOT

There are many today who believe that love of country is at odds with the concept of concern for mankind; that patriotism involves undue regard for military might, governmental power and national pride. Those who so believe have failed to grasp the essence of patriotism. The true patriot is not blind to his country's failures and shortcomings.

He is aware of them and regrets them. Nevertheless, he knows that the answer to these difficulties lies not in abandoning or attacking his country, but in utilizing the means of self-correction afforded him and every citizen by its Constitution.

Today's patriot is not just a flag-waver. He is one who is aware of his heritage and is determined to build on that heritage. He recognizes that he has been bequeathed a solid and lasting framework on which to build for an ever-changing and ever-better future, and that he can — and must — be a part of the shaping of that future.

After all, America will be what we want it to be, and what we make it to be.

What's Mississippi Doing This Weekend?

Every one of us uses an average of three gallons of oil every day. So do all the other 205 million Americans. Oil and natural gas supply 75 percent of our energy needs; almost all transportation, most of what is used for cooking and heating, more than 40 percent of all our electricity. A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

That should tell you a lot about the cars we sell.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure: 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road. This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it—to last. So even if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

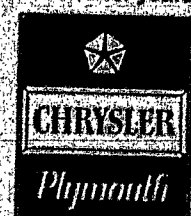

Newport Royal 2-Door Hardtop

You gotta have heart.

The quality of a Chrysler starts deep down in the heart of the car. That's where you get it. With such time- and road-proven features as Chrysler's torsion-bar suspension and Torque-Flite automatic transmission. The rigid strength of unibody construction. And a 7-step dip-and-spray anti-rust process. Extra care like that is why so many Chryslers stay in great shape.

Every Chrysler Imperial is road-tested at the factory.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example, every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you. This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a tuned engine means cleaner exhaust. From our lowest-priced Chrysler, Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury. We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

Coming through with the kind of car America wants.

Theatre Presents Annual Louie Awards

Diamondhead Country Club provided a setting of elegance on Thursday night of last week for the fifth annual presentation of Louie Awards by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Four of the seven coveted statuettes went to Plaza Suite, two to The Velvet Glove, and one to Cactus Flower. Carrying home a silver Louie were Burt Barrett, director of Plaza Suite; Fred Wagner, its technical director; and Mrs. Douglas Koger, its producer. The award for best actor of the year went to Douglas Koger for his triple role in the same play, and the award for best actress to Mrs. Victor Frankiewicz as Mother Hildebrand in The Velvet Glove. Al Carlson received a Louie as best supporting actor for his role in Cactus Flower, and Mrs. Santo Rosato another as best supporting actress for her performance in The Velvet Glove. Selection of Louie recipients is determined by the total of points given by out-of-town judges who must attend all plays and score the actors following each performance. The sealed score sheets are opened and tallied by a committee just prior to the presentation of awards.

Special awards, given by the Louie Committee itself, were made to Joseph Marochino, president of the Little Theatre, and to Mrs. Leo Seal. Both presentations were made in recognition of numerous instances throughout the years in which they have helped the Little Theatre and encouraged its projects.

Following a cocktail hour and a buffet dinner, Pete Chapman, chairman of the Louie Awards Committee, and Joseph Marochino welcomed guests and turned over the program to the theatre's first mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Joseph Viguerie, Jr., whose own active participation in the local theatre began 23 years ago when she tried out for and won a part in The Man Who Came To Dinner. Mr. Barrett's award was presented by Andre Arconneau, Mr. Wagner's by Don Baker, and Mrs. Koger's by Mrs. Caroline Klefer. Mr. Koger's Louie was presented by Mrs. Calvert Smith. Mrs. Frankiewicz's award was presented by Mrs. Gordon. Gleim, and Mrs. Rosato's by Joseph Servat. The special award for Mrs. Seal, who could not be present, was made by Mrs. Rene de Montuzin to Leo Seal, Jr., acceptor for his mother, Mr. Marochino's award was presented by Calvert Smith.

The evening closed with dancing to the music of the Gulf Coast-combo "Gloria and Her Playmates".

Members of the Louie Awards Committee are Pete Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Smith, Mrs. Ben Hills, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Montuzin.
